CS 215 Programming Assignment – Graphs
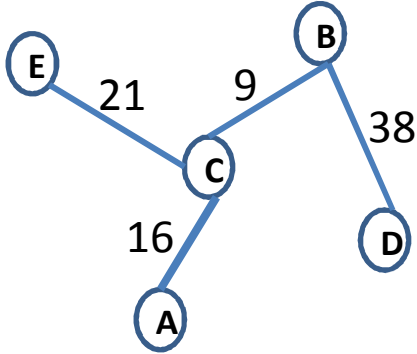

Implement the necessary program in C++ that does the following:

1) Reads the information from the graph below as input,

2) Stores it in the form of an adjacency matrix, and
3) Displays that information as a table with proper column and row labels showing the distances between the nodes in the graph.